This is one of the glorious views from Jack's Peak, the highest point on the Peninsula (1080 feet), which The Nature Conservancy is trying to preserve for the use of hikers and/or picnicking families. In the distance lie Point Lobos and Carmel Bay.

Jack's Peak Needs $45,000 By Feb. 5

Jack's Peak, highest point (1080 feet) on the Monterey Peninsula, which commands an unparalleled view of Monterey Bay, Point Lobos and Carmel Bay and which is easily accessible for hiking and picnicking, is in danger of being lost to the public, according to Sean Flavin of The Sierra Club.

The 55-acre tract has been held in trust, following purchase from Mrs. George Dutton, by a conservation-minded family who placed it in the hands of trustees Kenneth A. Ehrman, A. Gordon Hall, and Talcott Bates, pending its acquisition as a park. The family stipulated that necessary buffer lands or easements be acquired.

The Nature Conservancy has obtained an option, and will obtain easements from adjacent landowners, Del Monte Properties, Dudley Swim, Mrs. Howard Hatton, and Carmel-Hawaii Developers, the developers of De la Mesa Carmel.

Preservation of the property in its natural state for public park purposes is assured if the fund drive of The Nature Conservancy is successful. If not, contributions would be refunded to donors.

Needed by February 5, for a down payment, is $45,000. Anyone desiring further details should contact John McDaniel at 624-8152.

Fire Destroys Car and Garage

At 8:30 last night the Carmel Volunteer Fire Department received a call to extinguish a fire at Casanova between 12th and 13th.

The Fire Department reported this morning that a garage and a 1966 automobile were totally destroyed, resulting in about $3000 worth of damage. According to the department, source of the fire came from the electrical system of the automobile.

Although the property is owned by Robert Morris, the tenant living there is W. Maurice Howard.

WEATHER

Perfect weather prevailed this week with temperatures rising to over 75 degrees. The same is expected next week, with a slight chance of rain.

Offer to Buy Police Property Renewed

Last week the Pine Cone misinterpreted Mr. Howard Jackson's feelings on the matter of purchasing the old Police Station property for $90,000, the price the City set a year and a half ago when they decided to put the two lots up for sale.

At last week's council meeting, Mr. Jackson said he would NOT be able to wait until the next Council meeting to find out if he would be allowed to purchase the property. Councilman Herb Blanks felt strongly that the entire council be present when voting on this highly important matter, and since Councilman Bill Sefton was absent, encouraged a vote from his fellow councilmen to wait until the February meeting.

The following day, Mr. Jackson withdrew his offer. But, yesterday, according to his attorney, Skip Lloyd, Mr. Jackson will re-submit his offer, to be held open for three days to give the Council time to meet again and vote with a full membership present. According to Mr. Lloyd, Mr. Jackson felt the Council should have voted on the sale, but that he does understand Mr. Blank's reasoning.

A special meeting of the council has been called by the mayor, scheduled for Friday at 5 p.m.

Symphony Features Concertmaster

Carmel concertgoers have an exciting evening of music coming up on February 6 when the Monterey County Symphony Orchestra, conducted by Jan de Jong, presents the world premiere of a new composition and Concertmaster Michael Rosenker makes his first solo appearance.

Walter Kelsey, local composer, has written a modern suite, "Morning Mysticism," which will be heard in Carmel for the first time anywhere. Mr. Kelsey has written more than a hundred works, ranging from string quartets to an entire symphony.

After intermission, the spotlight swings to Concertmaster Michael Rosenker who has selected Tchaikowsky's "Concerto for Violin and Orchestra in D Major" for his featured performance.

Haydn's "London" symphony will open the program. Tickets for the concert at Sunset Theatre may be obtained at the Symphony office at Sunset Center or reserved by calling 624-4125.

BULLETIN!

Dr. William Lewis of Carmel was elected YOUNG MAN OF THE YEAR at the Junior Chamber of Commerce meeting last night at the Carmel Valley Country Club.

Letters to the Editor

Editor, The Pine Cone:

I have been asked, as City Attorney, to reply to the Editorial in your paper concerning the new ordinance permitting motels in the residential district on a use permit. You ask whether or not new motels will arise in the R-1 District as a result of this ordinance.

The ordinance itself is the best answer to your questions.

Section 1 provides that there shall be ". . . no further expansion in either area or use. . . ."

Section 3 provides that in order to obtain a use permit for a motel, the motel had to be in existence prior to January 1, 1967, and it must conform in design and bulk with residential character of the surrounding area, and that all taxes due the City have been paid.

Thus it is clear that only existing motels in the R-1 District will or can obtain a use permit.

Although no lawyer will guarantee the fruits of his labors, I am reasonably certain that this ordinance will stand, and no further expansion in the R-1 District will be allowed.

The approach taken by the Council was reasonable and fair; the motels that we have had for thirty or forty years are allowed to remain under strict regulation and control. No additional motels, and no expansion of the existing motels will be permitted.

A couple of years ago some of the motels were expanding by adding neighboring homes to their property, and we couldn't stop them. Now we can.

Granting use permits is not spot zoning; we grant use permits to churches in the R-1 District and that is not spot zoning.

I urge your readers to study the ordinance before expressing themselves. I will be happy to answer any questions. If the referendum is successful, the City may be unable to stop future expansion of the motels.

William B. Burleigh,
City Attorney

Dear Sir:

Thank you for your editorial of 11 January 1968. It takes only a few to do strange things when people are apathetic. The enclosed from the Monterey Peninsula Herald of 15 and 16, January 1968, is proof.

Congratulations for the effort and thought you put forth along with a sincere interest to keep Carmel, and vicinity unique. 'Tis a shame that a good image can easily be destroyed by so few.

George Hattie

JULIE'S FLAPPER WORLD — As a flapperized chick of 1923 in Ross Hunter's lavish star-studded Technicolor musical, "Thoroughly Modern Millie," Julie Andrews gets involved in some nostalgic props of 40 years ago. Sharing scenes with Julie in the highly-regarded Universal film are:

(1) An old-fashioned hook-and-receiver telephone;

(2) James Fox tuning in on a crystal radio set;

(3) An open-cockpit 1923 biplane with Mary Tyler Moore and James Fox.

Theatre Review

THE LOVE-INS, starring Richard Todd and James Mac Arthur, make love, not war. Direction, and plot left much to be desired.

THE COMEDIANS. This is a turbulent drama of a group of Europeans living under the dictatorship of Papa Doc Duvalier, starring Elizabeth Burton playing the unfaithful wife of Peter Ustinov.

DIVORCE AMERICAN STYLE, vivid comic portrayal of the do's and don'ts of divorce, with Dick Van Dyke and Debbie Reynolds.

THOROUGHLY MODERN MILLIE. Carol Channing steals the show playing an eccentric wealthy widow. But also around to help in this comedy of the 1920's are Julie Andrews, who is delightful, James Fox, Bea Lillie and John Garvin. Although the direction, unfortunately, is unimaginative, and the script lacks wit, the whole show is extremely goodnatured. Some of the songs are from the period, and two numbers are by Sammy Cahn and James Van Heusen.

COUNTERPOINT. Charlton Heston is cast as a world famous symphony conductor who, with his orchestra, is captured by the Germans when they are making a USO tour during the Battle of the Bulge in World War II.

THE AMBUSHERS. Dean Martin again plays secret agent Matt Helm in this third of the spoof series, where Martin and friends, mostly barely clad girls are searching—steady now— a missing flying saucer in the Mexican jungle.

HOW I WON THE WAR, is starring John Lennon, who is making his first film without the other Beatles. Co-Starring Michael Crawford, a complex soldier in a role that is alternately comic and tragic.

WAIT UNTIL DARK, spine rattling drama about a young blind woman victimized by three crooks who are searching for heroin they believe to be hidden in her apartment. Audrey Hepburn leads excellent cast.

ST. VALENTINE'S DAY MASSACRE, vivid recreation of Chicago bloodletting incident in 1929, Jason Robars as Al Capone.

UP THE DOWN STAIRCASE, exceptional film version of popular Bel Kaufman novel. Fine writing and direction assist able cast led by Sandy Dennis to capture honest flavor of teachers experiences in todays big-city schools.

TO SIR, WITH LOVE Sidney Poitier as a new teacher in a school in the London slums.

Speech Team Scores Again

With 13 trophies in the finals, the Stevenson Forensic team made an outstanding showing at the Pacific Forensic League tournament. Placing in the finals in all events except one, the team "racked up" 88 points to sweepstakes in the league (in spite of the fact that 5 events were open to girls only).

Five boys were double winners with Lonnie Foy leading the way with two first places. Individual events and winners included:

Extemp Speaking: Lonnie Foy first, Bruce Decker second and Eric Haas fifth.

Impromptu speaking: Lonnie Foy first, Joel Harris fourth.

Oratorical Analysis: Mike Green third, Jeff Klien fourth.

Humor: John Cann third. With only two boys entered, John made it all the way in his specialty. One of 16 semi-finalists.)

Original Oratory: Bruce Decker second, Robert Howard third, Joel Harris and Jeff Klien tied for fifth.

Oratorical Interp: No finalists, but Pete Cowden and Bill Kondrat made the semi-finals.

Dramatic Interp: John Cann with a fifth.

In the three major events practiced in college competition (Impromptu, Extemp and Oratory) Stevenson had 9 of the 16 finalists.

Basketball Teams Split

The basketball teams split victories this past week, losing to Mora but beating Monte Vista. The Mora game saw the varsity losing 72 to 59 with John Cann hitting 19 points. The Frosh-Soph game was very close with Mora just edging RLS by 49 to 42 as Willis Cooke again led the scoring.

Against Monte Vista, the Varsity won 82-55 with Eric Paulson getting 21 points, Mike Greene 20 and John Cann 19. Both Jeff Erlandson and George Winters shared with strong defense and Dan Guistina came off the bench for 8 points. Kinion's "Kats," using all subs by game's end, won 42-22 with John Enders playing an especially fine game with 11 points. Both teams are now 3-3 in league play.

Women Meeting for Bazaar

The Sponsors Club continues to meet on Wednesday in preparation for the Spring Bazaar, and both friends and school mothers are invited to join. The ladies made a large financial presentation to the school this past week for scholarships and other academic needs as Club President Mrs. John Brock said "this is only the first installment this year."

Emile Lahner at Laky Gallery

Beginning January 27 and continuing through February 11, The Laky Galeries, Ltd., will present a one-man exhibit of the recent works by Parisian artist EMILE LAHNER.

Lahner, now in his seventies, is one of the oldest fully active artists in Paris where for fifty years he and his closest friends, among them Picasso and Braque, have painted and introduced to the world new and revolutionary ideas in art. Originally an expressionist, Lahner in later development abandoned expressionism for a systematic "decomposition" of landscape in colored planes, arriving at pure color.

This one-man showing of Emile Lahner will include some twenty-five (25) of his paintings, with emphasis on landscapes and abstracts.

The Laky Galleries, Ltd., is on San Carlos, between 5th and 6th, and is open daily from 11 to 5, and on Sunday from 1 to 5.

Paintings Exhibited

Sculptures by Nick Guastella, paintings by Bruce Glenn of Skaalegaard Studios were shown at the recent wine tasting and cheese sampling of the Fort Ord Officers Wives Club. Also featured were paintings of the late Robert Glenn along with others by Hans Skaalegaard and Jeanne Bellmer.

Parish Meeting

The annual Parish meeting of the All Saints' Episcopal Church will be held on Sunday, January 21 at 10:15 a.m. following the Festival Eucharist.

"We always get such good results in the Pine Cone's Classified columns," an advertiser told the paper this week, "we don't bother with other publications any more."

Art Show at Canterbury Woods

Beatrice Wheelock (Mrs. Charles D. Wheelock), who is having one-artist shows at Canterbury Woods and at the Speech and Hearing Clinic in Monterey during January, has painted all of her life, studying with several leading artists and at several art schools over the United States.

She studied portraiture with Wayman Adams in New York State, water-color with Gordon Grant and Frank Allen in Massachusetts, and has exhibited at the Arts Club and Corcoran Gallery in Washington, D. C., and consecutively for twelve years at the Fine Arts Gallery of the National Smithsonian Institute with the Miniature - Painters, Sculptors and Gravers Society. In the West, she studied Commercial Art at the Cornish School of Art in Seattle, the San Diego School of Art, and with Elliott O'Hara and Rico LeBrun.

Admiral and Mrs. Wheelock have made their home in La Jolla and Carmel for the past sixteen years, and are moving to Del Mesa Carmel in the near future.

WHERE BUT CARMEL . . .

Are Yellow Cabs painted white?

Gallerie de Tours Features Fine Art

In the Gallerie de Tours in Carmel on Lincoln at Ocean Avenue, the discriminating buyer will find a varied selection of paintings from all schools, chosen with good taste from impressionistic, representational and abstract artists.

Local artist Marjorie Allen is featured with a group of her haunting studies of trees, florals and figures. (See Mood Trees at right).

Leonard Creo, who is now painting in Europe, is represented by a lively group of out of door Italian provincial scenes. The stocky figures busy at their homely activities in the village markets are reminiscent of a modern Peter Bruegel. (See Two Umbrellas at right).

The very knowledgable curator, Stan Parks, will be most helpful in making a selection or let you browse at your leisure.

'Nobody Refusing U.S. Dollars,'

The World Affairs Council luncheon meeting at the La Playa Hotel last week was attended by 60 members and guests. Included among them was a member of the San Francisco Federal Reserve Board and two students from Robert Louis Stevenson School.

Wallace Getz, president, introduced the speaker, Frederick A. Breier, professor of international economics at the University of San Fransico who spoke on "Pounds, Dollars and Gold: the World Monetary Situation."

"We have a favorable balance of trade of $3.6 billion," he said, "which should not be tampered with. We buy 55 per cent of what foreign countries buy of us."

"There is a serious balance of payments deficit of 4 billion due in part to the hoarding of gold by France, the Middle East, and India, in part to U.S. military spending abroad."

"American investments abroad have increased from 28 billion in 1958 to 65 billion in 1967," he said.

Mr. Breier was asked about the suggestion of Franz Pick that there be a 50 per cent increase in the value of gold. "Mr. Pick," he said, "is employed by the South African government to pull for an increase in the price of gold."

In answer to a question concerning investment in gold stocks, he replied, "There are more dogs among gold stocks than in any market area." He confessed he had bought some, however, as there will be many gold crises and others may bid stocks up.

He was asked why we don't subsidize gold as Canada does. The price of gold would have to be $100 per ounce then, he said.

Advertising in the PINE CONE is GOOD BUSINESS

From A Librarian's Notebook

By Ruth Galvin Thornburg, City Librarian

Most of the books to be included in this literary mishmash are a little on the serious side, so let's begin with a more hearty curtain-raiser, a book by Bernice Fitz-Gibbon which is entitled MACY'S, GIMBEL'S, AND ME. The author is a $90,000 - a - year advertising woman who is known for having originated such slogans as "It's smart to be thrifty" for Macy's. Her book is a fast-moving account of her rise in the business world and what down-right fun it was for her all the way. She manages her staff with unusual skill, giving all of them six or eight weeks of paid vacation every year. She believes that tired people lose their originality. She would rather have her people work a six-hour day productively than an eight-hour dragging day. What a woman to work for! In other words, how wonderful!

THE FORTRESS is the new book by Robert Payne who has also done three other books about Russia and the Russians. They are THE RISE AND FALL OF STALIN, THE LIFE AND DEATH OF LENIN, and THE TERRORISTS. This one is the story of the struggle to overthrow the monarchy in Russia and it has it's name from the Peter and Paul Fortress where hundreds of revolutionists were imprisoned and died. Most of the illustrations are photographs of persons who were killed or of actual executions. In all seriousness it can be said that this is not a jolly book, but it is fast and factual and Robert Payne writes with easy reading skill.

Frances Koltun has done THE COMPLETE BOOK FOR THE INTELLIGENT WOMAN TRAVELER. This is a really complete book. It begins with an alphabetical list of its contents which gives the intelligent woman a place to check her every question. But this is a book she will want to read from cover to cover because it is filled with the mature wisdom that years of travel have given to its author. Naturally, it is for women; not men.

Hans Habe has a new novel entitled CHRISTOPHER AND HIS FATHER. He says it is a nevel of the conflict of generations in Germany today. It has to do with fathers who had aided the Nazi movement in Germany, and who were not allowed by their sons to forget their guilt. It is a strong hard story written by a master story teller.

WITH PREJUDICE is the title of the war memoirs of Lord Tedder, Marshal of the

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Panizzon

Oriental Trip Follows Marriage

A reception at La Playa Hotel followed the recent marriage of Jeanmarie Patten of San Francisco and Robert Attilio Panizzon of Larkspur, which took place at Carmel Mission Basilica. Msgr. Marron performed the nuptial mass.

Jeanmarie, the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. William A. Blea of Flint, Michigan, is the niece of Mrs. Boyd Porch of Carmel, who made the dresses worn by the bridesmaids. Her cousins, Jyl Ann Porch and Lisa Lyn Porch were her junior bridesmaids. Junior attendant was Mark B. Porch, who wore a Mexican wedding shirt with a gold sash.

Jeanmarie, who attended San Jose State, was graduated from San Francisco State.

The couple plan an extended trip to the Orient in March. The groom, a graduate of San Jose State, is employed at the Medical Center of the University of California.

Dr. Martin Flavin Returns to Israel

Dr. Martin Flavin, son of the noted playwright who died recently, has returned to Israel where he is doing research in enzymes. He is on a sabbatical year from the National Heart Institute of the U.S. Public Health Service in Washington, D.C.

He was visiting his sister, Flavia, who plans to visit him in Israel in May. His brother, Sean, also lives in Carmel.

Robin Kvenild and Jay Lang Betrothed

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lee Kvenild have announced the December wedding plans of their daughter Robin of Carmel Valley to Jay Lang of Carmel.

Robin attended Carmel High School and is a senior at the O'Connor Nursing School in San Jose. She is the granddaughter of Mrs. Edith K. Hamilton of Carmel.

Jay is the son of James Henry Lang of Carmel and the late Dolores LaVern Lang. He plans to graduate from the University of California at Berkeley.

All Shiny New

Two little girls born early this month were Lillian Ann to Mr. and Mrs. Ross E. Bracken, and Laurie Lynne, to Mr. and Mrs. David N. Morse, both of Carmel. Mr. and Mrs. Don L. Sheppard of Big Sur became the parents of a boy, Carl Eli.

Another little girl, Tiffany Louise, arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Earl Powers of Mission Fields, Carmel.

Woman's Club Fashion Luncheon

"A beautiful time with beautiful people and beautiful clothes in beautiful Carmel-by-the-Sea" is promised those who attend the benefit luncheon and fashion forecast, "Breath of Spring", sponsored by the Carmel Woman's Club. The gourmet luncheon will take place at the La Playa Hotel on Monday, January 29 at 12:30 following a social hour. It will benefit the Monterey Institute of Speech and Hearing, and Children's House, the day school operated by the Institute in Carmel Valley.

A cordial invitation to the public is extended by the chairman, Mrs. J. R. Reeves with whom reservations may be made by calling 624-1942 or by calling Mrs. Robert Pelton at 624-2304.

Fashions for the new season will be shown by Macy's of Monterey and San Francisco with commentary by their fashion coordinator. They will be modeled by Mrs. Sigurd Liseth, Mrs. Lynn Cox and Mrs. H. M. Reid, all of Carmel, and by junior models Miss Valerie Mullaly, Miss Judy Bryans and Miss Gale Dixon who also live here. Programs will be furnished by the Litton Scientific Support Laboratory.

The Monterey Institute of Speech and Hearing is unique in its professional services to both adults and children. Located on Pacific Street in Monterey, it is headed by Dr. Gene England, assisted by a staff of six experts in speech therapy. It is the only one of its kind in the West and its work is supplemented by Children's House, operated by a therapist assisted by volunteers. It is made possible solely by voluntary contributions.

Off to Idaho

Nancy O'Gara is leaving for Kellogg, Idaho where she will be spending the next two weeks with an old friend from school days.

ACHIEVEMENT

"Twice during the last three years, the graduating class of our investment training school ranked number one . . .

. . . number one among all firms entering over 25 candidates in the New York Stock Exchange Standard Examination for Registration. The other year they placed second highest.

"There are sound reasons for these achievements: One, of course, is the Dean Witter & Co. Training School – one of the first and finest in the investment business. But most important are the people we select for training – men of outstanding intelligence, imagination and integrity.

"These are the men who serve our clients . . . who help maintain the standards of excellence found in all areas of Dean Witter service. If you would like evidence of this fact, visit the nearest Dean Witter & Co. office today.

"From my own experience as Training Director, I can personally assure you that we do everything in our power to see that our Account Executives are well-qualified to serve your investment needs."

The Happy Family Adventures of Becoming Acquainted with Four Little Jewels in the Pacific

by Dorothy Waring

A promise of travel to the Islands of Hawaii presents the thrill of anticipation — and then leaves one with the nostalgia of a longing to repeat the whole experience again not long after one returns to the Mainland.

We landed in Honolulu amid tropical trade winds and the heavy humidity of August. The change of pace and climate was delightful. We were anxious to begin our sightseeing and after taking in some of the "city" mood of Honolulu, we were eager to investigate the more rural areas of Oahu. We visited the Polynesian Cultural Center, Sea Life Park, and took the Pearl Harbor Cruise which gave us a perspective of the island from a distance.

One day after participating in the usual tourist attractions, we took a walk in Kapiloani Park in one of those sudden tropic rains. It was quite a change to be walking in the rain in shorts and sandals. When the sandals became uncomfortable from the rain, we just took them off and walked barefooted in the grass and let it rain. How great to be so unbelievably casual in a downpour.

Next we flew to Kauai and settled down for a week at Poipu Beach for the most enjoyable time of the whole trip. The hotel is on the beach and we could walk out to the surf from our room and swim and play in the water—just the right temperature. It was not overly crowded and we usually spent most of the afternoon feeling luxuriously languid, floating along watching the passing clouds overhead. In the evening we dined in the Oriental splendor of the Coconut Palace, and again at the Tahitian Long House. We were glad for the quiet restful days on Kauai. It is the least inhabited island and the most subject to rain. But we loved it.

On to Maui. The high point of our visit on this Island was a marvelous day sailing over a perfect sea off the coast of Maui and Molokai on a 55 foot schooner. We dropped anchor and some of the group swam alongside. One of the teenagers searched the ocean floor and came up with a lovely shell out of which emerged a tiny octopus. One of the girls examined it too closely and was drenched immediately with black ink. She was so surprised she jumped overboard to wash it off. Well, no squid for lunch—just a ham sandwich which is more my cup of tea anyway. We stretched out on the deck for an afternoon siesta in the sun. What a way to live! Truly a paradise.

There was gorgeous foliage everywhere. While driving up to Haleakala Crater, 10,000 foot elevation, we passed some of the most beautiful ranch land imaginable. It began to pour so we stopped for lunch at a little spot, 5,000 feet above sea level, which resembled a little Swiss chalet. The view is said to be very spectacular, but the rain became very heavy and blanketed out the scene below. There was no point in traveling to the top of the volcano in all that rain along a narrow road, so back to the lush green turf of the Royal Lahaina with its beautiful golf course sprinkled with coconut trees, the Sheraton Maui, hanging over the sea, and the new Hilton.

Finally we headed for the Big Island of Hawaii and landed in Hilo. We toured by car to Kona and traveled through some of the most beautiful vegitation, and also through some of the most barren land, we had seen so far. Brilliant flowers everywhere. The fingers of the lava flow stretch everywhere and have laid the land bare. We stopped to see the steam rising on the floor of Hale Maumau Volcano. It was positively awe inspiring.

There are practically no beaches on the Island of Hawaii, so swimming pools were given a lot of activity. Clouds gathered overhead quite often and light rain persisted frequently in the afternoon.

Since horseback riding is a family calling, a trip was planned to the Parker Ranch, the world's largest—greater than the King Ranch in Texas. The lava beds made for rough riding, and there was very little shade but it was great just the same. One can ride for days over the ranch and never come across a fence—just occasional cattle guards in the roads. It is fabulous country.

Beyond the Parker Ranch lies the Mauna Kea Hotel—the Rockefeller fantasy. Besides the glamorous hotel,

PREDICTIONS FOR 1968

by Jewel White

January is the month for predictions and I have compiled some very interesting facts that seem to be indicated for this year. It will be fun to see how many work out. While in Alaska I predicted that a foreign nation would rob our fishing catch in Aleutian waters and I even warned the fishermen to band together and rent some tuna boats for deeper waters. That is one that DID work out, I am sorry to say. The Alaskan boys only got about 5% on the crab season. Also, the 1964 election for Governor had Richard Nixon and Pat Brown neck-to-neck and the Sacramento Union asked me to make a chart on both and to predict the outcome. I did, and found that Mr. Nixon's chart showed a WIN, but so close that it would require a re-count. The votes they dug up in the New Mexico desert seemed to bear out that fact. I also found that Mr. Nixon WILL become our President, but not this term . . . SO, I will begin with him and predict that he will run with someone else as Vice-Pres. Either Reagan or Rockefeller . . . it will begin with an "R."

The one question everyone asks is . . . WHEN WILL THE WAR END IN VIET NAM? I will go out on a limb and say it should end in August. By October, war will start in still another small country we are committed to aid. NOSTRADEMAS seems to have been right for many of his predictions, made in the last century. The latest translations indicate devastation to visit EVERY NATION by 1970. Our foreign aid (especially man-power) is squandered to put off war in these United States. The square of Saturn to the sun in the Declaration of India chart denotes foolish expenditure of money and men to prevent our own destruction.

There may be a new boxing champion in 1968.

With the Moon moving into the house of Government, we have a chance to reinforce our own economy, and I think we will eliminate our "Foreign Aid" policy entirely by October.

We will bring back unknown and vital minerals from the Moon which will change our present manufacturing of things like automobiles, house-siding, etc. And especially our aeroplanes. This should happen by November or December.

Let's remember and see if these events come to pass.

And now, a thumb-nail chart for each sign for the entire year.

INDIVIDUAL FORECAST FOR EACH SIGN — 1968

Aries—Big deals, new romances, changes, work harder to pay all debts.

Taurus — Secrets, gossip about you, very romantic summer. Health problems in fall and winter and gambling losses.

Gemini—Happy entertainment (but expensive) and new romance begins. Stay with the "Happy People". Never pout.

Cancer — Money, money, money but get it by June. Good investments. Gala summer travels, autumn rewards.

Leo—Leadership in public, arguments at home. You may be elected president of some group. Watch health in autumn.

Virgo—It will be an all-around good year. Big bonus or gift in October. Travel is indicated in summer.

Libra—Be more active in community projects. Become helpful to younger people's troubles. Be peace-maker.

Scorpio—Money will be plentiful, goofy ideas too. Cooperation with loved ones is essential for investments.

Sagittarius. Money, travel, pleasure, exciting romance could lead to marriage. If married, guard against extra romance.

Capricorn — Stick to old friends. Much summer travel, careful what you sign with new friends. New romance in summer.

Aquarius — Good stay-at-home year. Catch up loose ends. Renew old loves. You may get an advancement as pleasant surprise.

A bus load of women from the Fresno Art Center will arrive in Carmel on Monday for a tour of Jacobs Gallery; Horne Gallery, and the Carmel and Monterey Museums of Art. Ralph Jacobs' "Yellow and White Floral" will draw special attention not only for it's artistic quality, but because Mr. Jacobs is a favorite of the Fresno Art Center. Mr. Jacobs, at the age of 13, displayed his paintings in Fresno, and later had several one man showings at the Museum. Fresno still claims him as "their artist."

Travelers

there is a beautiful golf course, one of the few private beaches on the Island, and riding stables for the adventuresome. We enjoyed a wonderful gourmet buffet luncheon at the Mauna Kea. After a dip in the brink, we drove back to the Kona Plantation where we headquartered in a delightful cottage designed in the Oriental manner. Across the street was a little restaurant, Sunset House, where they served home cooked meals. Such a treat after the so-called "hotel circuit".

The climax of the trip was a sunset dinner atop LaRonda, a circular dining room revolving over the City of Honolulu. The view was a dramatic finish to a marvelous trip.

Everywhere, on all the Islands, the native populace takes time to be truly gracious to their guests. Never have we enjoyed such a feeling of warmth as expressed by the local gentry. They really want you to love their Islands and show in so many little ways that they care. In our modern-day "jet society", how satisfying to experience this genuine interest.

I dream of the daily treats of fresh ripe pineapple and the deep bodied flavor of Kona coffee, and fresh coconut pie served outdoors at the Kona Inn while we drank in the glory of a cobalt blue sea and an even bluer sky—not a care in the world, drinking up the sun day after day, day after day. This is Paradise. Aloha!

'Portuguese Paella'

Portuguese and Spanish cuisine is very similar and an outstanding example is "paella," that exotic dish which originated in Spain. There was a Spanish king who doted on creating late supper dishes in his palace apartment for his lights of love. One of the best concoctions he ever dreamed up is a tangy combination of chicken and the "fruits of the sea." His majesty named this specialty "para ella," or "for her," to please his favorite enamorata of the moment.

The Portuguese have added robust ingredients unknown in the original recipe. This typifies the Moor strain coming from Spain in 714 to the section north of today's Lisbon which they named "Lissibona."

On Saturday, January 27, at the Sunset Auditorium in Carmel "The New Portugal" will be shown and narrated by Dr. J. Gerald Hooper. This award-winning film deserves such a magnificent dish as "Portuguese Paella" served at a pre- or after-cinema supper. We are giving two versions, one that takes longer to prepare and the other a quickly-assembled affair.

Portuguese Paella With Clams

Half a pound diced fresh chicken; 2 chopped onions; 2 minced garlic cloves; 8 tbsps. olive oil; 1 pound rice; 1 pound dried lima beans (soaked overnight); 1 sliced sweet red pepper; 2 peeled diced tomatoes; 1 herb bouquet of celery, thyme, rosemary, parsley (tied in cheesecloth); 2 tsps. powdered saffron; 2 quarts chicken stock made by boiling a large hen; 12 anchovies; 24 clams. Serves 8.

Brown chicken, onion and garlic lightly in oil. Add everything excepting clams and anchovies. Simmer with lid on heavy Dutch oven or paella pan on top of stove for 30 minutes. Rice should be firm and not mashed up. The clams in shells are steamed separately until they open. Top dish with these clams-in-shells and the anchovies.

Quick Portuguese Paella

1 large can stewed tomatoes; 2 T. olive oil; 1 onion and garlic clove, minced; 4 cups diced canned chicken; 4 slices diced boiled ham; 2 cups cooked yellow rice; 1 can green peas; 1 can kidney beans; 2 slices canned pimiento, diced; dehydrated parsley; 1 large can minced clams; 1 jar artichoke hearts.

Saute onion and garlic in oil and add to stewed tomatoes. Use heavy Dutch oven or paella pan on top of stove. Add everything else (drain the canned peas and beans and use sparingly if extra liquid is needed). Decorate top with artichoke hearts when the whole is very hot. Simmer and do not boil. There must be some juices with which to soak up crusty sourdough unbuttered bread. Amount given should serve six depending on appetites. This quick version may be prepared early and reheated. A boon for the working host or hostess. Seasoning is added at one's discretion such as paprika, cayenne and seasoned salt. Quince jelly and cream cheese with hard crackers and red or port wine with black coffee wind up this meal worthy of a Portuguese sonnet. Use the packaged "yellow" rice that has saffron and seasoning already mixed in the rice.

BUILDING THE PROPER DOG HOUSE

By June Wood

Have you been considering the building of a dog house? For your dog? Christmas puppies have a way of suddenly doubling and tripling in size. Whether your pet is going to be a live in and live out one he should have a place of his own. Here are a few points to consider that will insure a sound, dry and comfortable one.

First selecting the site. Whenever possible the kennel should face the east or south so the sun can be taken advantage of. Always make sure the rear of the kennel faces the prevailing wind. Construction materials can be from ordinary fiberboard to matching the exterior of the family house. Fiberboard has many advantages. It is dampproof, inexpensive and strong and it can be covered with shingles or whatever type of siding one desires. There can even be non-opening windows to let in light.

The overall length of the kennel box should be at least twice that of the dog. In measuring, the dog's tail doesn't count. As for width, the dog house should measure about three fourths the dog's length, though for added spaciousness a dog's full length will prove more comfortable. In height, the kennel should measure to the top of his head plus 20 per cent.

Very often love and generosity take over when providing a home for one's pet, but keep in mind that the house should be snug and compact. Next comes the roof. This should be removable, making the interior accessible and easy to clean. It should overhang the kennel by at least 6 inches for added protection against the weather. Asphalt shingles make an excellent roofing material.

A dog house should be well-insulated with plenty of dry warm bedding where the dog can make a nest in which to curl up. The best way to insulate is double siding, roof and floor, with insulation between. To avoid drafts, the entrance of the dog house should be to one side or off center which gives the family pet a place to curl up and snooze in comfort, protected from inclement weather and winds. A two-way door or flap is desirable and the dog soon learns to manipulate it.

The bottom of the door should be a few inches above the floor with the opening as small as it will be comfortable for the size of the dog.It is a good idea to raise the dog house several inches off the ground or pavement. This avoids dampness and gives ventilation. A 2x4 laid flat under the sides of the kennel will provide just about the right height. A ¾-inch sheet of insulation nailed to the bottom of the house will keep out the chill in the winter. If winters are severe (as ours has been this year) and the dog is short haired or for just a touch of haired or for just a touch of elegance, an electrically heated floor mat is made especially for dog houses. They are fireproof and use a very low amount of power and keep the floor warm at all times.

If the master of the house is building this abode he should remember to build it well as he might have to share it some night.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SUNDAY SERMON

"Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind; and thy neighbor as thyself."

This verse from the tenth chapter of Luke is the Golden Text for the Lesson Sermon on "Love" to be read in all Christian Science churches Sunday.

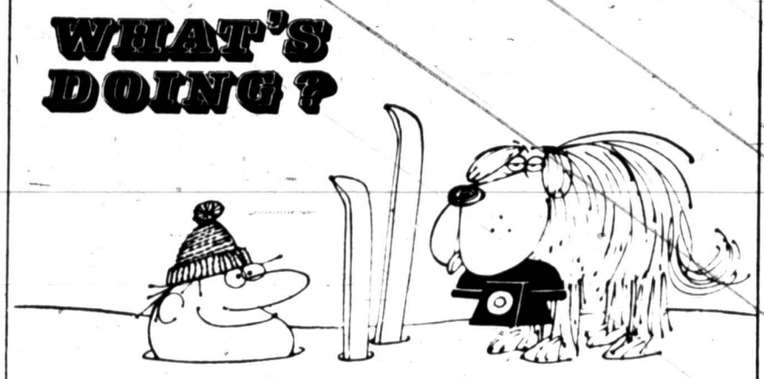
'The Red Shoes'

This magnificent performance will be among the 14 award-winning movies which are sponsored by the Carmel Museum of Art in connection with the Carmel Village Theatre. The series will run, with one showing each, from February 7th through the 20th. If this culturally-oriented series is a success, the museum and the theatre may present a "Steinbeck Festival." The curator of the museum, Kent Seavey, said, "The burdon of the success of this series is on the shoulders of the public." Tickets for this exciting British movie series may be purchased at the Carmel Museum of Art located in the old Wells Fargo Building on Dolores.



WNROG NUMBER?

Have you ever received a misdialed call? Most of us have, I guess. And you know, many of these wrong numbers result from the party having the right number in mind, but accidentally dialing one number out of place. And just as one letter makes a big difference in a word, one number makes a big difference in a phone call.

Many people have found three easy ways to help their calls go through faster, easier and with less delay. They are simply:

(1) look up the number before calling;

(2) have paper and pencil near the phone and jot down the number before you phone; and

(3) always watch the dial when dialing.

What's 5 feet 9½ inches tall, has shoulders 18 inches wide and talks in a booth? The answer, according to Bell System engineers, is the average man using a telephone booth in the United States these days. Measurements such as these help us in designing new telephone booths.

But if you happen to be a little larger or smaller than Mr. Average don't worry—the new booths have been designed so that 97 percent of the adult population can conveniently use them. And whether you're an occasional visitor to a phone booth, or "practically live in one" as some people jokingly put it, we're trying to make the phone booths you use as comfortable and convenient as possible.

In the past I've written about the jobs being done by our Operators, Installers, Repairmen and many more. Now, I'd like to tell you about our specialist in the business field—our Communications Consultant. On the Monterey Peninsula, Lloyd Finch and John Brady study business problems, let businesses know. The job performed by the Communications Consultant is another of the many services we offer at no added cost or obligation and is a vital part in providing good telephone service.

Librarian's Column

Royal Air Force and Deputy Supreme Commander of the Allied Expeditionary Force. Lord Tedder is the last of the World War II military giants to write his memoirs. He says, "So often people makes great play about being completely unprejudiced. Frankly, I am completely prejudiced . . ." Here is his book. Doesn't it seem a shame that peace conferences and peace efforts are never as interesting as wars when considered as material for books. Libraries are filled with books on wars, the same thing being recounted from every angle, and viewpoint.

An engaging book is R.F.K. by Dick Schaap. A large book in inches by inches, it is filled with pictures of Robert Kennedy, his family, his friends, and his political peers. Whether or not Robert Kennedy will one day become President, this book is of interest because of the warm yet driving and dynamic portrait it paints of the Senator from New York.

Just in passing, we have some new annuals, two from Better Homes and Gardens, the one on HOME FURNISHING IDEAS, and the other on HOME IMPROVEMENT IDEAS. Another is from Vogue magazine and is about KNITTING and the last is from McCall's and is about NEEDLEMORK AND CRAFTS. A chance to do some fancy handiwork while winter rains beat on the roof.

IF YOU BUILT IN CARMEL
WOULD YOUR SPECS SOUND LIKE THIS?

LOT: Larger than most of the Carmel lots, say 53'x100', to be able to have a double garage. Located in quiet neighborhood close to downtown Carmel and convenient to bus.

EXTERIOR: Redwood siding, painted sparkling white; shake roof, of course. Deck on the sunny South side. Minimum-care landscaping—gravel and the like.

INTERIOR: Large rooms. Living room 35'x18' with beam ceiling and very attractive fireplace. Bedrooms 16'x16' and 15'x15', each with its own bath and one with a dressing room. Built-in kitchen appliances, of course.

If this sounds like something you've been thinking of building, why not look at our 11-year-old home already built, beautifully cared for, draped and carpeted, mature plantings. Built by the present owner to high standards. Her Del Mesa home is ready for her, and she's ready to SELL!

REAL ESTATE EXCHANGE

"SURE, EXCHANGING IS EASY"

INVESTMENT NOTE

When a residence is converted to business or rental use, depreciation is figured on the Market Value as of the date of conversion, or on the cost, whichever is lower. So if you have moved from your house and have been renting it, be sure to have your accountant put it on a depreciation schedule.

WHY?? You should always deduct ALL the allowable depreciation, for when you sell the property, the depreciation is considered to have been taken whether you did or not, and gain will be taxed as though you did.
